

The purple-boxed car has 3 visible tires with a noticeable rear bumper

The red-boxed car has its rear tires and rear window visible

The yellow-boxed car also has its rear tires and rear window visible to a lesser degree than the red-boxed car

On the far-left purple-box, the outline of a pickup truck is visible. You can make out the truck bed, the hood and its driver side mirror

The yellow box contains 6 different forward-facing vehicles with varying degrees of prominence

- The bottommost vehicle is mostly obscure, but the intensity indicates it is a vehicle
- The second from bottom has prominent side mirrors and can make out its front and rear windows
- The third from bottom has mostly obscure features, but its passenger side mirror is visible
- The third from top is mostly incomplete image, but its front window is visible
- The second from top is mostly incomplete also, but its front driver tire, its driver side mirror, and its front window are visible
- The topmost shares the same characteristics as the above

The red box contains a work truck hauling a flatbed trailer, with very prominent left tires and bumper of the trailer

The green box shows a large work truck. Given that you can see the matching intensities of the right-side tree line in front of the vehicle, this vehicle is likely a tow truck or some other vehicle with an exposed rear
